

|                                                                                   |                      |                  |                                                           |                                                                                   |                                                                                     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|  | KOZMICE RADIO | <h2>125,830</h2> | Private SLZ field                                  |  |  |
|                                                                                   | Group frequency      |                  | ARP: 49° 54' 48" N, 18° 09' 51" EELEV: 885 ft / 270 m |                                                                                   |                                                                                     |

! Turn right after take-off from RWY 29 (opposite the village) to avoid flying over the village. RWY 11 approach procedure is carried out above the village, thus, it shall be carried out with higher altitude.

 KOZMICE RADIO 125,830
Group frequency

|                                                                                     |            |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
|  | Year-round |
|  | NIL        |
|  | NIL        |
|  | NIL        |
|  | NIL        |
|  | NIL        |
|  | NIL        |
|  | NIL        |

 Ing. Petr Kucejda
K vápenici 543/26, 747 11 Kozmice,
☎ +420 775 568 563, petrkucejda@email.cz